

Conference Week 2022

Nursing and Nutritional Care – complex, diverse, essential

Monday 11th – Friday 15th July 2022

The NNNG are delighted to be hosting an event this year that covers the diverse and complex world of nutrition and nutrition support, with award winning experienced speakers from across the spectrum of Healthcare.

Please visit the website www.NNNGConference.co.uk to book your place, we have a hybrid offering of both virtual and face to face events this year, of which are open to all members of the Health and Social Care community. For our face to face event on the 13th Session we will also be joined by Monty Halls, an established speaker with extensive experience with public service leadership.

Don't miss out on what will be a fantastic opportunity for all Health Care Professionals, as Nutrition is essential & fundamental to health!

VIRTUAL (11th-12th & 14th-15th July)

18:00-20:00 covering malnutrition, ethics, planning, enteral/parenteral nutrition

IN-PERSON (13th July, Hallam Conference Centre, London)

09:00-17:30 clinical workshops day and keynote

Reasons to attend:

- Fulfil participatory CPD learning
- Develop your practice with the latest clinical expertise and insight
- Learn more about the many different areas of nutritional care
- Gain a wider understanding of nutrition support provision
- Network with colleagues and experienced practitioners

TO BOOK YOUR PLACE

www.NNNGConference.co.uk
+ 44 (0)20 7501 6776

Organised by

In association with

